November 17, 2020, 14:40 CEST

The Swedish Defence Research Agency FOI ("FOI") has, on behalf of LifeClean International AB ("LifeClean International" or "the Company"), reviewed the product LifeClean Disinfectant against SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19); the initial findings reveal a confirmed and inactivating effect.

LifeClean International is currently cooperating with independent testing institutes to conduct laboratory experiments on the SARS-CoV-2 virus, which is the virus responsible for the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. However, the Company is already able to confirm that the product LifeClean Disinfectant has an established effect and inactivates the virus. This is the result of FOI's evaluation. A final report will be presented in the course of this year.

The CEO comments:

It is as a proud CEO I hereby can announce that LifeClean has been confirmed effective against COVID-19 through its proven inactivating effect on SARS-CoV-2. This assessment strengthens the results of previously conducted independent virus tests.
